To make a scientific investigation of the properties contained in the soils found on the islands and reefs to the westward of the Hawaiian group, Professor Carl Elschner, a German expert who a number of years ago was identified with the management of the largest phosphate plant in the Pleasant Islands, will depart for a three weeks' cruise in the United States revenue cutter Thetis today.

Professor Elschner has just returned from some months spent at Fanning, Washington and Christmas Islands. The Thetis will visit Laysan, Lisiansky Islands, Hermes and Necker reefs and include a number of isolated rocks and coral atolls in the voyage to the unfrequented part of the Pacific.

The scientist will make a careful study of coral formation and the phenomena of guano solution found in the rock. A search will be made for traces of phosphate of iron, a mineral much desired in the manufacture of fertilizer.

Officers in the Thetis will watch for the appearance of bird poachers on the neighboring islands.

As quickly as the federal grand jury acted upon and disposed of the cases brought to its attention during the session which came to a close yesterday, even more quickly did the court dispose of the defendants in eight of the cases when they appeared this morning for arraignment. Of the eight persons against whom indictments were returned by the grand jury, seven entered pleas of guilty, and were sentenced to terms in Oahu prison ranging from one month to one year. In three cases, the defendants also were ordered to pay the costs.

Opium concealment, transportation and smuggling was the charge upon which five of the defendants were indicted. Four Filipinos, namely, Roman Montenegro, Eusebio Euora, Francisco Geronimo and Laytana Francisco, formerly members of a musical organization aboard the steamer Korea, each pleaded guilty to the two charges against them and were sentenced to one month in Oahu prison. Albert Anderson, who, at the time of his arrest, was chief cook on the steamer Sierra, pleaded guilty to a charge of having smuggled opium and was sentenced to four months in Oahu prison and ordered to pay the costs of the proceedings.

Oscar Ostenson, an enlisted man stationed at Fort Shafter, indicted on a charge of having intercepted a registered letter while he was acting in the capacity of mail orderly, pleaded guilty and received a sentence of six months and costs.

Ah Hung, a Chinese boy about 15 years old, was sentenced to one year in Oahu prison and to pay the costs of the proceedings when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having deposited unmailed matter in the local post office. The letters in question contained filthy and obscene matter and were addressed to two young ladies. Prior to pronouncing sentence, Judge Sanford B. Dole administered a severe lecture to the youthful defendant.

Attorney L. Andrews appeared in court as representative of J. P. Mendola, a carrier in the local postoffice, under indictment charged with having destroyed certain letters. No plea was made in this case. Mendola was released on a $500 bond, and the case continued until next Thursday.

POLITICAL NOTES

L. L. McCandless, Democratic candidate for delegate, says that he does not observe that the Hawaiians are raising the race issue.

John C. Lane announced this morning that he would be unable to attend the meeting of the Republican majority candidates at the Bijou theater tonight, owing to a previously arranged meeting at a point on Windward Oahu.

Delegate Kuhio, John Wise and R. W. Breckons were speakers last night at the largely attended meeting held at the delegate's home at Waikiki. Most comment today was caused by the statement attributed to Manager Wise, that the supporters of Kuhio ought to go to the polls early on primary day and stay there all day in order to keep the Rice adherents from being able to cast their ballots. Other candidates who spoke last night included Edward Woodward, A. L. Castle, Jack Lucas, A. K. Viera, George Makalena, W. J. Sheldon, Ben Hollinger, C. F. Chillingworth, E. W. Quinn and John Anderson.

Matson Steamer Movements.
The position of Matson Navigation steamers in the Pacific today is as follows, according to advices received at the office of Castle & Cooke: The Matsonia is at San Francisco; the Lurline is en route to San Francisco; the Wilhelmina, now at Hilo, will return to Honolulu tomorrow morning; the steamers Manoa and Hyades are en route from the coast to Honolulu; the Hilonian and Enterprise are nearing the Coast.

Coasters Making Special Trips.
With sugar from the island of Hawaii the Inter-Island steamer Wallele is completing a special trip and is due to return here tomorrow with a full load of sugar for transshipment to the coast. The steamer Katulani has been supplied with a large shipment of firewood and is also expected at the port on Sunday. Officers in the steamer Mauna Kea report the Nihau remaining at Hilo.

Dakotan Off for the Isthmus.
With sugar for the amount of 9000 tons, and consignments of preserved pineapples, the American-Hawaiian freighter Dakotan is reported to have been dispatched from Hilo for Panama canal yesterday afternoon. The vessel just spent about a fortnight in the islands in the discharge of mainland cargo and loading sugar. The Dakotan carried island products destined for New York.

WALTER E. WALL
LOSES DECISION TO HERMAN FOCKE

Supreme Court Upholds Circuit Judge in Ruling in Suit to Recover Commissions

The supreme court this morning handed down a decision in favor of Herman Focke in the suit brought against him by Walter E. Wall to recover $2700 which the latter alleged was due him as commission on the sale of property owned by Focke. This was the second time the case had been taken to the supreme court by the plaintiff, following a decision in favor of the defendant by Circuit Judge William L. Whitney. The supreme court overruled plaintiff's exceptions to Judge Whitney's decision.

The case was argued before the supreme court August 31. Circuit Judges C. W. Ashford and William J. Robinson sitting as acting associate justices in place of E. M. Watson and R. P. Quarles, and the opinion handed down today is written by Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson and concurred in by the associates.

As the supreme court opinion states, the evidence with regard to the exact contract or agreement between Wall and Focke concerning a commission "was diametrically in conflict." The opinion in conclusion says: "A determination of the issue by the trial court either way would have been supported by substantial evidence, but it is not so easy to see how the trial court could have reached a different conclusion upon the question of an implied contract. The decision and judgment were amply sustained by the evidence. Exceptions overruled."

Oahu will be represented at the convention by delegates from the Chamber, the Ad Club, Commercial Club, Promotion Committee and board of supervisors.

WOMAN BADLY INJURED.

Caught in the act of beating his wife a man giving the name of John C. Smith was arrested by the police late this afternoon at his home near the Palama fire station. The woman, though bleeding profusely from wounds about the head is thought to be not seriously injured. She was removed to the Queen's hospital, and her belligerent spouse was taken to police headquarters.

KUHIO CAMPAIGN
STOOPING LOW,
—WATERHOUSE

Statements from Kuhio's platform that the Rice speakers are "slinging mud" and the further statement attributed to Kuhio's manager last night that the Kuhio people should block the Rice voters from the polls, brought forth a brief but pointed answer today from F. T. P. Waterhouse, chairman of the Rice campaign committee. He said:

"The manager of Kuhio's campaign at a meeting last night stated that the campaign of Charles A. Rice was one of abuse. This I deny absolutely. Anyone who will attend or has attended any of the Rice meetings can see for themselves. Kuhio himself does not accuse Rice of any mud-slinging, neither do I believe he approves of that part of John Wise's speech where he urges the Hawaiians to go to the polls early and stay in the voting booths all day, so that the Rice supporters will be kept out until after 5 o'clock, the time when the polls close. "Wise says Kuhio has the hardest fight he has ever had. It certainly must be if it is necessary to resort to dirty politics."

When a candidate who attended only one session of the House has to say so much about how strong he is for the public schools, I believe that having been ranking member on the education committee for three sessions of the House I am at least entitled to as much consideration as the man with but one session to his credit. Since everybody refers to his record, I call attention to mine. In my work as a member of the House of Representatives I have nothing to be ashamed of.

Bulletin Bill Will Tell Honolulu How
Los Angeles Was Built

In a series of talks I will give the citizens of Honolulu a general outline of the methods used in building Los Angeles, California, from a Mexican pueblo in 1884—with less than 40,000 inhabitants, into a city of over 400,000 population in 1914.

I will go back to the building of the Southern California railway and the operation of the Santa Fe Company into Los Angeles which gave that city and California the first opportunity to break the monopoly of the Southern Pacific Company—and, talking about building, (excuse me for a moment) we are going to rebuild the Model Clothing store into the largest and best clothing establishment in the Hawaiian Islands—bar none—another little talk tomorrow, and follow me through for the history of the building of Los Angeles is the most interesting of any other American city, simply from the fact that it has been accomplished WHERE IT IS and in such a short period of time. OUR NEW STORE WILL BE REBUILT IN RECORD BREAKING TIME, and don't forget the sale opening on Tuesday morning, Sept. 8th, in the Bissel building.
